THE ESSENCE OF INFRUSTRUCTURE IN FOOTBALL DEVELOPMENT

The NFAS President at the Technical

Centre in Lobamba

The President of the National Football Association of Swaziland (NFAS), Senator Adam Mthethwa having realized the need to establish virtuous structures for football maturity has as a medium to long-term strategy decided to construct infrastructure in all the four regions of the country. These are not exclusively for football development; but the populace will realize that they will also pay homage to our football competitions, locally and internationally, as well as house the administrative functions of the regional football associations.

Such infrastructure has also been designed to contribute to the fiscal incline of the organization. This is already evidenced by the extended wing of the Sigwaca House, which is termed an income generation wing, with the capacity to generate revenues for the organization and its activities. The same will be applicable for the regional infrastructure where possibilities of income generation for their maintenance and daily football exertions will be harnessed.

Infrastructure will therefore play a key strategy in the development, competitions and governance of the game of football.
